

HUERTA IS IN DESPERATE PLIGHT

Police Plot Still Simmers While Torreon and Tampico Are Each in Peril

CAPITAL'S STREETS ARE UNDER CONSTANT PATROL

Palace Guarded Both in and Out—Rumors that Huerta is Soon to Take Field

(By United Press Correspondent.) MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9.—Gen. Huerta's position is more desperate today than at any time since he seized the Mexican government, according to persons in a position to form an accurate opinion. An attack is in progress on Tampico and Torreon is menaced. Vincente Segura, an insurgent millionaire and former bull fighter is reported preparing to move on Pachuca. Gen. Felipe Angeles, a former federal commander, is said to be attacking Mazatlan. He went over to the rebels last week while supposedly aiding in the defense of the city. Disaffection continued in the capital today. Huerta is keeping close watch on suspects against the administration. The police plot is said to be simmering and many of the police officials are under surveillance. The Huerta newspapers are trying to make capital of the Cumbre tunnel incident, asserting that Castillo is not a bandit leader but a constitutionalist commander who is disputing Gen. Villa's leadership.

HUERTA "WORKED" WEALTHY MEXICANS TO OBTAIN CASH
It was learned today that when Gen. Villa seized the estate of Luis Terrazas in Chihuahua, Gen. Huerta called the wealthy Mexicans' attention to the affair, adding, "The rebels are Socialists; they believe in the distribution of wealth. If they capture Mexico City they will confiscate your estates and your bank holdings and distribute them among themselves. I am the only power between them and you. If you expect me to save you you must get money."

It is understood that he realized a million pesos by the appeal. Relatives of the dictator obtained a Mexico City gambling house concession by which he is netting three hundred thousand pesos monthly.

CAPITAL UNDER PATROL, PALACE UNDER GUARD
The streets of the capital are under heavy patrol this afternoon, and the palace is guarded both inside and out. Huerta conferred during the afternoon with his advisers, and it is rumored this evening that he will take the field at the head of the federal troops within a week.

NO TIDINGS YET OF LOST TUG POTOMAC

Naval Station Flashes Wireless Messages in Vain—Navy Officials Hopeless

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The navy department is still without news of the tug Potomac which made an unsuccessful attempt to aid American fishing boats imprisoned in the ice in the Bay of Islands near Newfoundland, and overdue at Cape Breton. The Potomac was equipped with wireless apparatus but was handicapped by lack of elevation for afloat. There were forty men in the fishing fleet. Little anxiety is felt for them because they were probably able to get ashore over the ice, but the boats were probably crushed.

Hopes that the Potomac is safe diminished during this afternoon when no answer was received to repeated wireless calls. Messages were flashed at 15-minute intervals from the North Sydney station but there was no response. The Potomac carried a crew of 36. Navy department officials admit they fear that all have perished.

Aviator Falls 400 Feet Into San Diego Bay

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 9.—Lieutenant Henry B. Post of the Army aviation corps, was killed today when he fell four hundred feet in a hydroaeroplane while maneuvering over San Diego Bay. He had apparently started on an easy descent when his machine turned over and dropped to earth. Post either leaped or fell in the waters of the bay, falling clear of the machine, but failed to come to the surface. Boats at once began patrolling the bay for his body.

Post was twenty-eight years old and entered the army aviation corps from New York. He had been an aviator for a year. Post fell 500 feet, and his skull was fractured by lighting in six feet of water. The patrol boats picked him up five minutes later. He died en route to the aviation corps from New York. He had a widow.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 9.—With its capital and surplus exceeding $300,000 wiped out, the Mercantile National Bank failed to open its doors today. The Raine's shortage is announced as $788,804. He was arrested at his palatial home.

TAKES SOUND POSITION

Governor Johnson has defined his position on the question of the unemployed in the following terse and forcible manner: "The line must be drawn between the man really wanting work and the few leaders who preach the tenets of the Industrial Workers of the World, who neither wish work for themselves, nor desire employment for others, and who preach an anarchistic doctrine at variance with organized government." The people of the state generally will say "amen" to that utterance.

WILSON EXPECTS FIFTY PERSONS FREE TOLLS REPEAL

Says Baltimore Platform Free Tolls Provision Must Be Discarded by Party

IS VOIDED BY CHANGES IN FOREIGN RELATIONS

Refused to Reveal Changes or Tangles Referred to as International

(By John Edwin Nevins)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The free Panama Canal tolls provision of the Baltimore platform has been nullified by international complications and as a result the Democratic party must disregard its declaration.

This at least was the opinion President Wilson voiced today. He made plain that he expects congress to repeal the exemption section of the Panama canal tolls bill. He told callers it would probably not be necessary to send a special message to congress on the subject. The President thinks the clause was all right when it was put in the Democratic platform at Baltimore, but the changing of foreign relations has caused different conditions. He refused to say what changes had occurred. He said England was the only protestant but that this was not pressing, as England is content to await our action.

He made more than 1000 miles. He used a Pfaff biplane with a 100-horsepower Mercedes engine. During the trip he used 126 gallons of gasoline and twelve gallons of oil. He started from Muelhausen in Alsace-Lorraine and finished at Furstentried, in Bavaria.

T. R. HARRINGTON, HERO OF MONROE WRECK, SWAM TWO HOURS, HOLDING UP UNCONSCIOUS WIFE

The hero of the wreck of the Old Dominion steamship Monroe was Thomas R. Harrington, a young man of Bridgeport, Conn. For two hours he swam in the almost icy ocean off the Delaware coast dragging along his unconscious wife by holding her hair in his teeth. Her arm was broken from the collision of the Monroe and the Nantucket, and she cried out to him that rather than undergo the pain of his holding her arm she would die. Here is Harrington's story of his struggle in the water: "At first I tried to hold the poor girl up by her arm, but it pained her horribly and she screamed and wrenched so that I saw it would not do. She was faint one minute and in shivers and struggles of pain the next. I twisted her hair into a tight rope as close to her head as I could, and then took it in my teeth and tried to keep her head above water by keeping it on my chest while I swam on my back. That must have hurt her, but she didn't say anything except 'That's better, Tom.' "We had been getting along that way for about fifteen minutes—it seemed like two or three hours—when a lifeboat came along. They went within ten feet of us. I asked them to take the girl aboard. They never even answered—just looked at us and rowed away. Strength seemed to go out of me after that and out of her, too. I got lower in the water and her face was under at almost every wave. "After a long time—they tell me it was two hours, but time didn't seem to count one way or the other—another boat came along. I held Margaret up to them and a sailor said: "Let her go. She is dead." "She is not dead," I said to him. "and you take her aboard if you do not want to go to hell with murder on your soul." So they took her in. And she opened her eyes and smiled at me and made the sailor turn and look at her. "But when they got me aboard the ship they put her in a stateroom and left her and put me in another. I believe that if a doctor had been with her right away with stimulants for her poor, overworked body, she might be alive now. But they were all mixed up, and when I found where she was lying all alone she was dead. "That's about all, except that a steward came into the room and said he guessed we might as well throw the body overboard and I smashed him in the eye so that he fell outside the door. Then I shut the door and locked it, and stayed with her until we got to Norfolk."

HASTENING ON GAS PIPELINE TO SANTA ANA

Has Permission from Railroad Commission to Go on With the Work

F. R. Bain, president of the Southern Counties Gas Co., was in Santa Ana today, and called at the city hall to tell City Attorney Heathman that his company is doing all that it can do at this time toward getting natural gas to Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton.

Bain stated that a shipment of pipe to be used in the pipeline has been received at Olinda, and construction will begin soon. Bain stated that the matter had been taken up with the State Railroad Commission, had been fully explained and was satisfactory to the commission. He said that he wanted the city officials to know that the company is hastening the project as rapidly as possible.

When natural gas reaches the mains, the price will be cut to seventy-five cents per 1000 cubic feet. Santa Ana is now paying $1. and more than $1 is paid at Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton, all of which are now served with manufactured gas from the Santa Ana plant of the company.

Probe Will Last for Weeks; 500 Witnesses to Be Examined

HANCOCK, Mich., Feb. 9.—A congressional inquiry into the Michigan copper strike began here today. Hundreds of miners arrived throughout the copper country to attend.

The inquiry was launched to determine the following points: Whether postal service has been interfered with; whether the immigration laws have been violated; whether citizens have been arrested and tried in violation of the federal constitution and laws; whether agreements and combinations have caused conditions contrary to the law for controlling the production, transportation and sale of copper; whether arms and ammunition have been shipped into the copper field to exclude the product of the mines from interstate trade; whether penance has or does exist.

It is also expected that the deportation of President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners from Hancock will be investigated. The miners union and officials said Moyer is coming here to testify. Local authorities responded that if he comes he will be arrested under a warrant charging conspiracy along with five other laborites.

The hearing is expected to last for three weeks as five hundred witnesses must appear. The committee will then go to Lansing to continue the hearings there.

RESCUED AFTER A FALL DOWN WELL PIT

S. A. V. I. Company Employee
Had Narrow Escape Saturday Afternoon

ANAHEIM, Feb. 9.—To fall seventy-five feet down a well-pit and be plunged into the icy water below, sink three times and still live, was the miraculous feat of George Gulick, engineer for the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company at the plant at Olive late Saturday afternoon.

Gulick, in company with other employees had been making some repairs on the pump when he lost his footing and fell like a plummet down the narrow shaft. Stunned by the fall he rose to the surface of the water twice before he was able to grasp anything by which he might hold his head above water until assistance could be rendered. With wonderful presence of mind he caught the pump shaft the third time he came up and, although greatly weakened and suffering intensely from various bruises and injuries sustained, he slipped his numb arms through the noise in the rope attached to a windlass that was let down. A faint tug announced that he was ready to make the ascent. Later Gulick was removed to Anaheim Sanatorium, where it was ascertained that, although severely injured, he would suffer no serious after-effects of the accident.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder
Bothers

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertise-ment.

JOHN FEAREM'S CONVERSION

A Santa Ana Story of Today
(Copyright, 1911-1912, by George S. Scales. All rights reserved.)

A group of men and women known as the Consumers' Club, met in Santa Ana Friday evening to discuss topics of interest to the growth and prosperity of Santa Ana. One of the members of the club said that judicious and liberal advertising, backed up by the policy of educating people to talk up their home interests, to encourage home enterprises and to buy goods at home was a certain, sure and speedy way of increasing Santa Ana's prosperity. This statement was enthusiastically indorsed by a large majority of the club members.

Elder Small, Col. Force, and Mrs. H. Splurge, however, had a nebulous idea that they could get certain goods cheaper from the large cities. Their claims were not justified by the facts and they were shown that, quality considered, they could save money in every case by buying at home.

Among those present was Deacon John Fearem, one of the town's honorable and respected pioneer business men, who found it difficult to adjust himself to present day conditions.

"Everybody knows John Fearem," he was fond of saying. "And it isn't necessary for me to advertise." He also thought it very unwise to tell the truth about the harm the practice of buying in near-by large cities was doing to the country generally.

"Why," said Deacon John Fearem, "you only advertise 'em." You see that John was certainly wrong in his conclusions. Judge Mutchlau took exception to John Fearem's statement. "Deacon," said the judge, "when we hold revivals in our church and go after the devil hard, and fight sin and iniquity, are we or are we not helping the cause of morality and of religion? Did we ever win a political contest by keeping quiet over the shortcomings and misrepresentations of our opponents? I reckon not. Are we purging our state legislatures and our city councils of dishonest and incompetent members by shutting up like a clam and never voicing our disapproval from house to house? It is agitation and publicity that accomplish reforms, deacon."

"We business men have every advantage that could be asked for or desired over the mail order houses, and also over the untruthful advertisers of the larger cities. We sell better goods for the money. We have our goods here for inspection. We are here on the spot to correct errors. We save all long waits and annoyances, and we extend accommodations impossible with the big city and mail order dealers. But we must advertise more and tell the buying public fully and truthfully what we can do for it, and what the mail order houses will do to it by draining the community of its life blood. The dissemination of the truth never hurt a just cause, and the showing up of the evil which even showing up to any community, will do much good to any person who wants to see his town prosper."

"I like to go to headquarters when I buy," pompously asserted Elder Small.

"Do you send to Washington for postage stamps?" asked Mrs. Senator Sorghum. "I tell you that the retail price of stamps is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders."

"When the lady who answers to the name of Mrs. Readyboy honored me with her hand," said jovial Dick Readyboy, "The Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Co. had just opened its store in Santa Ana. That was five and a half years ago. We bought our furniture of them, and have never regretted doing so. The Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Co. started in by selling good goods at reasonable prices and has adhered to the practice ever since. Only last week, the wife bought one of those beautiful moth and insect proof red cedar chests in which to keep furs, coats and other feminine fluff ruffles, and Mrs. Readyboy's sisters, cousins and aunts are just in love with the cedar chest. The Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Co. sells everything desirable in furniture, including easy chairs, Macey sectional book cases, Hoosier kitchen cabinets, sanitary mattresses, beautiful bed room furniture, including artistic brass beds, latest in dining tables, china cabinets and buffets, new Method gas ranges, saving 25 per cent in gas, a big line of rugs, carpets, portieres, draperies, bungalow sets, window shades to order. Vidor porch shades and everything desirable in porch furniture. The Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Co. carries the largest stock of furniture in Orange county and can furnish a mansion or a modest little bungalow to the entire satisfaction of the owners."

"When you buy of a mail order house in a distant city," said Judge Mutchlau, "you invariably lose in quality. Their prices frequently appear attractive, but when you inspect the goods in many instances they are of such a character that you would not accept them from your home dealer. The Crescent Hardware Co., 208 East Fourth street, makes quality its watchword, early and late. It takes every precaution to insure its patrons that everything that leaves its store is of the best quality obtainable in that line. It has a modern stock of builders' and shelf hardware, and carries in stock such well known goods as the Acorn line of gas ranges, the Dangler blue flame oil stoves, Ideal fireless cookers, Motor High Speed washers, Keen Kutter lawn mowers, Keen Kutter garden tools, O. V. B. Catarrhugs and Keen Kutter cutlery and tools, etc. It manufactures well casing, and delivers promptly in any quantity at lowest prices."

Mrs. H. Splurge called attention to a Los Angeles list of books, and said she couldn't get them for any such low prices at home. "I fear you are not very well posted on Santa Ana dealers' goods and prices," asserted Judge Mutchlau. Geo. S. Thacker's book store, 214 West Fourth street, will sell you books at as low or at a lower price than you can get elsewhere. Geo. S. Thacker will also show you an excellent assortment of fine stationery, all the school books used in the county, school supplies, tablets, blank books, office supplies, and McCall's popular patterns. Mr. Thacker's book store is headquarters for picture framing. He has a large stock of latest designs in moldings for artistic framing to order."

The committee on arrangements for the annual spring festival given by the Consumers' Club, reported that it had made a contract with Taylor's, 216 West Fourth street, for all the confectionery and ice cream needed for the occasion. They had looked over Taylor's stock, and found that their candies were fresh and delicious, and their ice cream was made of the very choicest materials. They were entirely satisfied with Taylor's goods and found them generous in price. Taylor's supply their own make of pure candies and ice cream for weddings, parties and receptions, and by the single dish, and cater for banquets, receptions and parties. Their soda fountain furnishes delicious soft drinks of all kinds. This is a popular resort for parties and for ladies and children. Ice cream delivered in quantity to any part of the city. "I have noticed a somewhat general belief among my young lady friends," said Miss June Rose, the fashionable dressmaker and a member of the church choir, "that the fact of having a photograph made in a large city enhances its artistic value, and adds to the social prestige of the sitter. According to my ideas this is a phase of human weakness that should be discouraged. With an artist of such perfect knowledge of photograph making as R. V. Corbett

"Eyesight is too precious a gift to let strangers experiment with," observed Parson Greathart. "And we should be very slow to use any of these so-called remedies advertised as cure-alls for eye troubles. If your eyes need a medicine, go to a reputable physician, whom you know, and be guided by his advice in treatment. If you need glasses go to an optometrist whom you know. A home man like Dr. K. A. in Santa Ana, there is no possible justification for going away from home for photographs. Mr. Corbett is right up to date in all the latest effects to be secured in perfect photography and then his prices are less than those of the city. "In the present day tendency of rush and constant desire for change by the thoughtless young people of every community," remarked Parson Greathart, "it is a source of real satisfaction to continue business and social relations with the time tried and tested friends of many years standing. A case in point is W. G. Gould, manager of Wingood's drug store, 310 East Fourth street. Mr. Gould is a graduate of the University of Maryland and of the Philadelphia college of Anatomy, and is a registered pharmacist of California. In the ten years he has been at Wingood's drug store, he has compounded prescriptions for Mrs. Greathart and myself and for our children from their babyhood days to the present time. The Wingood drug store has a carefully selected drug stock, embracing high-grade petanets, toilet preparations and drug sundries."

"M. C. Kenton's Quality grocery, 220 East Fourth street, is one of the hustling business places that deserves success," said Rev. Greathart. "I am pleased to know that this grocery is keeping up its reputation for a square deal and everything good to eat in high grade groceries. It carries everything to be found in a first class grocery and is very particular about securing the best obtainable for its trade. Courteous treatment, prompt service, good weight and just as low prices as can be made consistent with high quality are always accorded customers at M. C. Kenton's Quality grocery. They make a specialty of Hill Bros' coffees, high grade teas, Monarch line of jams, jellies and preserves, Swift's Premium bacon (always fresh) and Golden State butter, all of which are as good as the best and better than most. They receive daily in season the best and freshest of fruits and vegetables. Quick delivery. Both phones, 54."

"Well, well," exclaimed Dick Readyboy, as he scanned the pages of Collier's Weekly, before settling down to an hour's solid reading of the editorial comment and Mark Sullivan's illuminating talks on congress. Mrs. Readyboy paused, expectantly. "I reckon the joy wagon has captured us at last, my dear." Mrs. Readyboy's face flushed with delight. "Here are two pages all about the new 1914 Maxwell '25' car," continued Dick, "and it sells at the astonishingly low price of $750. At the factory you know, hon, I have had a leaning toward the Maxwell for some time, but this certainly clinches the matter. A five-passenger, fully equipped car, with all the speed, hill-climbing and wear-resisting ability that you can get in a high priced car. I'll go today to Frank Vegely, 210-212 North Main street, the Maxwell sales agent in Santa Ana, and cinch the first one he can sell me." And Mrs. Readyboy smiled happily.

Mrs. Greathart said that the entertainment committee of the club had arranged with the excellent Model Bakery and Delicatessen, F. N. Anderson, proprietor, 317 West Fourth street, to supply everything needed for the annual club supper, in the baked goods line. The ladies of the club had worked so hard lately in other social matters, that they were too nearly tired out to do the cooking and baking for the supper. Besides, it was a question if it was not just as economical in the long run to have this work done by a professional baker. Remembering the deliciousness and wholesomeness of the bakery bread, cake and pies, the club members promptly endorsed the action of the committee. The Model bakery does fancy baking to order, makes all the baked goods it sells, and supplies roasted meats ready to serve. Home phone, 444; Sunset, 178.

"We are very fortunate," said Senator Sorghum, "in having first class plumbing establishments in our city, and which are carried on by experts in this line. When my house was built, I was urged to give the heating and plumbing contracts to outside parties, but Santa Ana plumbers are good enough for me. There are no jobs of plumbing or repair work that E. A. Bell, 601-603 North Main street, is not capable of doing, whether it is in a modest private residence or in a big public building. And Mr. Bell is not in so great a hurry to get rich as it seems some of the big city plumbers in his line are, judging by their prices. Mr. Bell supplies the most modern sanitary plumbing systems and his work is done on honor. He sells all kinds of supplies and fixtures, and employs expert repair men. "Bergman & Oharr's wholesale and retail meat market, at 223 West Fourth street, has the unique distinction of being the pioneer market of Santa Ana," said Judge Mutchlau. "It has been successfully conducted by Mr. Oharr and later by Bergman & Oharr for many years. Their long residence and upright dealings with our people have given the firm the confidence of the community. Their market is centrally located, and with its modern equipment and absolute cleanliness is on an equality with any market in the state. By courteous attention to the wants of customers and by supplying them with excellent home-grown meats, with excellent business always enjoyed by this market. They sell all kinds of home-grown meats, dressed poultry, delicious hams and bacon, A-1 oysters, fine table butter, pickles, olives and sauerkraut. They make a specialty of pure leaf lard and sausages of all kinds. Prompt delivery. Home phone, 21; Sunset, 24."

"I cheerfully acknowledge that I am converted," said John Fearem. "You will hereafter find me coming out openly in favor of home trade, and I reckon, too, I will put in more up-to-date goods and tell the people about them through the Daily Register."—Advertisement.

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Color, Gloss, Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggy and thin. Mixing the Sage tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

Thieves Got Only $5 in Precarious Visit to Ice Company's Office

FULLERTON, Feb. 9.—Safe robbers Friday night secured $5 in coin from the office safe of the Fullerton Ice Company. A quantity of silverware and a gold watch stored in the safe were left by the robbers. Tools for their work were borrowed from the ice plant. The office door was broken open with an ax, the knob of the safe door knocked off and through the aperture the combination was dislodged with a punch. Officers think the job was done by local people, familiar with the place. No arrest has yet been made.

WOMAN CONFIDENT OF A SPEEDY ACQUITTAL

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Augusta Dietz went on trial today charged with the murder of her husband, George Dietz, a wealthy tailor and art connoisseur, confident of a quick verdict of acquittal. George Nurnburg, harness manufacturer, and her alleged affiant, who is to be tried immediately after the case against Mrs. Dietz is disposed of, predicted today that the widow will be freed and that the indictment against him will then be nolle prossed.

The Dietz murder was one of the most baffling confronting the Chicago police for many months. Dietz, the proprietor of an exclusive ladies' tailoring establishment, was found dead in bed on the morning of April 14, 1913, his skull crushed by a blow from a heavy hammer that lay smeared with blood at the side of the bed. Across the body was a huge sheet of manila wrapping paper. Stenciled upon this with a rubber die, was a rudely composed letter, written in broken English. The writer complained that Dietz had "wronged my little girl" and that the author of the letter had taken this means of revenge.

A few days after the investigation was started detectives gave up the search for the letter writer and announced they were satisfied that the sheet of paper and its accusation were placed across Dietz's body to throw them off the trail. At about this time the detectives learned that a short time previous to his death, Dietz had employed private detectives to watch his wife and these detectives had reported to him an alleged friendliness for Nurnburg.

Nurnburg confessed the affinity part he had played, but Mrs. Dietz consistently denied the stories told by detectives. Both the widow and Nurnburg were indicted. Their trial was delayed several times, until Mrs. Dietz insisted that she face the accusations in court. Both she and Nurnburg have been at liberty under bail.

REPUBLICANS ELECT WILSON AS CHAIRMAN

Orange County Committee to Hold Meetings at Least Once a Month

With W. W. Wilson elected chairman and J. C. Burke continued as secretary, the Republican County Central Committee on Saturday organized for the coming campaign. A number of central committeemen were added to the list in the adjustment of committeemen to the changes that have been made in precincts in the county, the number of precincts having been raised from fifty-nine to seventy-five. A number of short speeches were made, and adjournment was taken to March 14.

That, in brief, is the story of the meeting of the Republican County Central Committee. Secretary Burke called the meeting to order, and W. W. Wilson of East Newport was nominated by J. P. Greeley for temporary chairman. Wilson was chosen. Roll call showed about thirty committeemen present.

Revision of the committee list in Santa Ana resulted in the selection of the following committeemen: Santa Ana No. 1, R. Y. Williams; No. 2, C. S. Kelly; No. 3, H. McPhee; No. 4, E. S. Wallace; No. 5, C. S. Hubbard; No. 6, P. T. Smith; No. 7, J. W. Flagg; No. 8, J. E. Liebig; No. 9, M. R. Heninger; No. 10, G. E. Robinson; No. 11, N. L. Galbraith; No. 12, E. L. Vegely; No. 13, W. W. Buell; No. 14, H. H. Hossler; No. 15, F. L. Vanden W. W. Wilson was named to represent Newport Beach No. 2. In Fullerton and two or three other places there are new precincts. Recommendations are to be made later, the secretary being instructed to take the matter up locally.

Wilson was then elected permanent chairman, and he called upon R. Y. Williams to make a talk. Williams said it gave him great pleasure to see how the Republicans are registering all over the state. He said that support of Republican principles is necessary in order to keep protection for such industries as the sugar beet industry.

Secretary Burke reported the figures on registration in this county up to Saturday noon.

Burke handed in his resignation as secretary, saying that his work as city clerk will prevent him from attending to the duties of secretary. Wilson and others urged Burke to remain, at least for another month, and Burke consented.

On the suggestion of Chairman Wilson, Prather of Tustin moved that the central committee meet once a month. This motion carried, the next meeting to be March 14.

A number of men were called upon for speeches. Those who spoke were J. P. Greeley of Balboa, J. S. Howard of Anaheim, F. C. Spencer of Anaheim, Dr. Royer of Orange, S. Armor of Orange, R. D. Richards of Bay City, J. W. Duckworth of Anaheim, L. L. Shaw of Santa Ana, J. C. Burke of Santa Ana and Albert Hermes of Newport Beach.

Each person present was given membership blanks in the Lincoln Republican Club of Orange County. The headings of the blanks read as follows:

"Lincoln Republican Club of Orange County, California."

"My politics can be briefly stated. I am in favor of the internal improvement system and a high protection tariff."—Abraham Lincoln.

"Believing in the principle of protection to American industries, which will be the paramount issue of the coming political campaign, and with the view of assisting and encouraging the selection of representatives in Washington, who are in sympathy with this principle, we hereby subscribe our names to the membership of the Lincoln Republican Club of Orange County, California."

REDUCING COSTS OF DISTRIBUTION

Social economists, in the effort to find the causes of high cost of living, are giving more and more attention to the expense of distribution. It is being realized that our machinery for delivering the products of the farm and the mill to the consumer is very crude and bungling. On a great many articles the price the consumer pays is two or three or more times the cost at the farm or at the factory.

This high cost of distribution is not largely in railroad rates. It is in handling over too many times, and still more in piecemeal handling in too small quantities.

It is probable that the system of distribution through a very large number of little retail stores is largely to blame. The small store, doing a little business, with overhead charges high for the total proceeds, has to charge up too large a sum as the cost of clerk hire, rent, insurance, etc.

Any retailer can meet the need of the times by enlarging his business, and reducing overhead charges, and sales expense, dividing up these charges into a bigger volume of sales. When a retailer doubles his business, it does not usually happen that he doubles his expense for salespeople, rent, etc. He can then afford to sell cheaper.

The retail business of the future will probably be more concentrated. Not into department stores in the large cities, but into enterprising, hustling stores serving the local community so well that they get a big business at home.

The way to get this larger business, and thus help the consumer meet the cost of living, is to conduct systematic campaigns of advertising. Any business can in this way grow to a size where it will become an efficient and economical distributing machine. Try it, Mr. Merchant! Thereby you will go with the current of the times, instead of against it!

CONGRESSIONAL POSSIBILITY

The suggestion of the Imperial Valley Press, that Col. Ed. Fletcher of San Diego would make a mighty good candidate for congress, has aroused much interest and considerable enthusiasm.

There can be no doubt that Col. Fletcher would be a strong candidate, and if elected would make a congressman of whom California might well be proud. He is a good campaigner, vigorous, enthusiastic, magnetic; and his large and successful experience in development enterprises and civic service admirably fit him for efficient service in congress.

He is a militant Progressive and a strong protectionist, but his exceptional ability and personality would command the support of hundreds of men and women of all parties.

From all obtainable information there isn't any very strong likelihood that Col. Fletcher can be induced to become a candidate. He is the head of a big real estate company in San Diego, owner of orange and lemon groves, and with others is largely interested in sugar beet growing, olive groves and large raisin vineyards in the El Cajon valley. Obligations to his associates in these enterprises may make it impossible for him to undertake a campaign or go to Washington. That is often the trouble; the men wanted and needed for public service are not available, and the offices are filled by those of mediocre ability.

DEATH IN THE FOG

The frightful tragedy of the "Monroe" off the Maryland shore comes home with vivid realization to all who ever travel by sea. The more one has committed himself to the mysterious cruelty of the deep, the more ominous the peril of the fog becomes.

Few people, no matter how familiar with the ways of the sea, can lie down to quiet sleep with the sinister tones of the fog whistle booming over their heads.

The landlubber has no conception of the thickness of these sea mists. It is a common occurrence for them to be so dense, that when one stands on the deck of the vessel, he can see his own shadow in the fog, cast by the lights behind him.

Conflicting statements as to the way these ships were handled will be fought out in the courts. Whatever the verdict may be, this disaster should be a warning to the many ships that do not reduce their speeds sufficiently in fog.

It is a mistake for those who pursue travel by water to insist on the regularity of time table that they may expect by land. A steamship gives a far greater freedom of motion than a railroad train, and is the acme of comfort, except in rough weather. People should have a little more philosophical habit of mind, and some resources for self entertainment.

Then they would not fret like so many caged lions because a boat was held up a few hours by thick weather. Every appliance for comfort is at their service, all they need is self-control and good humor.

There would be much more happiness, comfort and safety in travel by water if the public could adjust itself to the moods of the sea, and remain content with extremely low rates of speed on foggy nights.

A Plea for Home Workmen

Santa Ana, February 6, 1914.

Editor Register:—I have often read in your paper articles advising workmen and other citizens to patronize home industry. Very good. I believe in patronizing home industry. But don't you think you could devote a little space to advising employers to patronize Santa Ana workmen? It always has been impossible for a Santa Ana man to get work at the Walnut Growers' Association's house or the dried fruit association house, except when they can't get help enough from Garden Grove. The Garden Grove man gets all the steady work. Where does the bulk of the walnuts and dried fruit come from that is put up in these houses—Santa Ana or Garden Grove? It looks to the home worker as if this would be a good chance for some of our civic bodies that are working for the interest of home industry to do a little missionary work.

Yours for Santa Ana,
A WORKINGMAN.

2645 HUNTERS IN THE COUNTY

County Clerk Has Issued Large Number of Licenses to Sportsmen

Several Local Men Have Joined

*in Incorporation to Do Ranching

There are enough hunters in Orange county to make two or three regiments. County Clerk Williams has made a settlement with the state for hunters' licenses sold since last June, and the total is 2645. The licenses were all $1 licenses, and that means that this county contributed $2645 to the fish and game funds of the state.

And that is not all, for eighty-five anglers' licenses have been issued. The anglers' license law is of recent date, however, and but few licenses have been issued. The opening of the trout season will cause the number of licenses issued and the number of dollars taken in by the clerk to increase rapidly.

Articles Filed

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Holly Orchards Co., which names Santa Ana as its principal place of business. The company is organized to handle property at Paso Robles. Of the capital stock of $100,000, there is $60,000 subscribed. The directors are J. H. Edwards, Dr. G. A. Dobson, C. E. Rudbeck, W. F. Williams and J. A. Timmons.

The Orange County Automobile League has filed articles of incorporation. The company is to deal in automobiles. Santa Ana is the principal place of business; capital stock, $25,000; directors, J. E. Pearce and A. C. and C. J. Drake.

Citation Issued

Today a citation was issued to F. Morris Smith of Fullerton to appear in court on Feb. 20 to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court in failing to carry out a judgment entered against him on Nov. 2, 1909. The citation is issued on the affidavit of Henry J. Schulte, filed today by Attorney H. C. Head. Schulte sued because Smith had put up an embankment and built a cement ditch across a slight draw, thus causing water to back up on to Schulte's land. The court ordered Smith to remove the obstruction to the natural waterway. Schulte now alleges that Smith took out a part of the ditch and put in a pipeline, but left an embankment fifteen inches high over the pipe, which still forms a dam and backs the water up on Schulte's property.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Hall Reach Golden Milestone After Civil War Romance

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Hall celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home on West First street February 4 by giving a dinner to their relatives living in the neighborhood and those sojourning in the Southland for the winter. Congratulations were showered upon them, for few there are who are permitted to celebrate this fiftieth anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Hall are very hospitable people and fine entertainers. An elaborate dinner was served, the table and window decorations being in white and gold.

The day was spent in reminiscence. Fifty years ago harks back to the dark, troublous days of '64, when this couple was married at Finley, Ohio. While Mr. Hall was at home on veteran furlough, he had spent several months in a southern prison and had been given up and mourned for as dead by all his family and friends excepting his faithful little bride-to-be, who never for one moment lost hope but waited and confidently expected his return, which was celebrated with a wedding.

The Halls have lived in Santa Ana the past four years, having moved here from Newark, Ohio. Mr. Hall has spent most of his married life as a railroad engineer, retiring from service just before coming to California. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Peters, Miss Lizzie Whealen and Mr. Mark Wheeler from Huntington Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Zimmerman from Nevada; Mr. and Mrs. McAllister from Nevada; Mr. and Mrs. Wright of Santa Ana. These friends left gifts appropriate to the day and wishes for many more happy anniversaries.

Romance Began on Sea

Saturday a marriage license was issued to Carter Jackson and Isabelle Collins. Miss Collins is well known here and has many friends. She is loved by every one who knows her. Mr. Jackson has many friends in Los Angeles and his home town of Manila, Philippine Islands. The romance indicated by the marriage license began on board the Yale six years ago.

WOMAN'S CIVICS CLUB HEARD OF THREE "B's"

There was a goodly attendance at the Saturday afternoon meeting of the Civics Club held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and six new names were added to the membership roll of the club. Rev. J. A. Stevenson addressed the club on "Civic Righteousness." The text for the address was: "No man liveth unto himself." From this he drew the lesson of personal responsibility, supplementing it with the importance of working collectively for public and individual good. As the rays of the sun focus on Nature's growth, so should effort be focused on public interest through unity.

Referring to the clean-up movement begun under the auspices of the Civics Club, he said that morally there should also be a clean-up movement; that the weeds in vacant minds should be uprooted. Referring particularly to women's work, he said there should be three objects of her solicitude, which he designated as the three "B's," being, Boys and the Ballot. He enlarged upon each of these topics, clearly and wisely, urging women to develop themselves along intellectual, moral and civic lines; to uplift and aid boys not only by precept, but through the influence of pure, strong-principled girls, and to make use of the ballot that is the symbol of woman's new citizenship.

The address was inspiring and was listened to with deep interest. It is the earnest desire of the club members that every woman in this city should become a member of the Civics Club and get the benefit of addresses such as was given by Rev. Mr. Stevenson Saturday. The dues are but twenty-five cents a year and the purpose of advancing the interests of the city along all lines is one worthy of being supported by the entire womanhood of Santa Ana.

Monday Club

The regular meeting of the Monday Club will be held this evening in Library Hall at 7:30. C. H. Stearns will give a review of Winston Churchill's latest book, "The Inside of the Cup."

Entertainers Class
The Young Ladies' National Class of the First Congregational Sunday School was entertained Saturday night at the Halesworth street home of Mrs. Lewis Ewing.

The near approach of Valentine Day was noticed in the red and green decorations, also in the various games which added gaiety to the evening's pleasure. Each member wrote a few lines in a letter to their former teacher, Miss Henry, who has accepted a position in the Oakland high school. The letter was then read, creating much merriment.

The hostess served delicious home-made doughnuts and chocolate, also peanuts.

Wisconsin Picnic

Fully 7000 members and friends of the Wisconsin Society of Southern California, it is expected, will attend the annual picnic of the organization at Sycamore Grove next Thursday, says the Los Angeles Examiner.

As the day is Lincoln's Birthday, and prominent speakers, including Mayor Rose and Stoddard Jess, have been obtained, the committee in charge is confident of a large turnout.

President James J. Blaisdell of Pomona College will preside over the exercises.

Spoke Before College Women's Club

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealley returned last evening from Los Angeles and Pasadena. They were house guests over Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Beardsley at the latter city. On Saturday they were luncheon guests of the College Women's Club at the Friday Morning Clubhouse, where Mr. Nealley spoke on "The University and the Modern Spirit."

New Economics Club Formed

Household Economics Number Six was organized Friday afternoon as an Ebbl section at the home of Miss Margaret Orr on French street. Miss Orr was elected leader and Mrs. Fred Wilkes secretary. The meetings are to be held on the last Friday of each month. That the ladies are enthusiastic and ready for work is shown by the fact that they voted to have a luncheon at the meeting to be held on February 27 at the home of the leader. The committee in charge of this event is composed of Miss Orr, Mrs. Raymond Morrill and Mrs. Fred Wilkes. There are a few places yet to be filled in the membership, and those intending to go into this section should notify the Ebbl curator at once.

Visited Mount Lowe

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Henshaw and their house guest, Miss Mabel Hager, of central New York; Miss Mabel Strunk of Long Beach, and Chauncey Pond made the Mount Lowe trip yesterday, returning last evening. They went to the summit, crossing over to the other side of the peak in order to find snow banks. On their return trip last evening they stopped at the observatory, where Prof. Lucien Larken made the visit interesting.

Charming Luncheon

Mrs. E. R. May was hostess Saturday at a delightful luncheon. She used small tables for the function, using acacia blossoms in brown baskets and acacia boughs for the lovely decorations. Shower for Mr. and Mrs. Cox

Valentine Party

Miss Artie Cleveland and Miss May Pulham of the city schools entertained about twenty of their friends very pleasantly last Saturday evening at their home, 529 West Fifth street. There was a decorative scheme was carried out with red hearts and ferns. Progressive Rook was played and dainty refreshments were served.

At Lincoln School

Lincoln school was the scene of a very interesting entertainment last Thursday afternoon, when the teachers and their pupils presented a program of unusual merit for the benefit of that Parent-Teacher Association.

Every grade was letter and note perfect in its work. There were no mistakes and no hesitations, and the acting and singing were exceptionally well done for such young pupils. It would be difficult to decide upon the best number, although "The Toy Shop," by Miss Shure's second grade, received much favorable comment from the pupils themselves.

The teachers certainly deserve great credit and many thanks from the association for which they worked, not only for the quantity and quality of their work, but for the result, which gave about sixteen dollars to the treasury and much pleasure and pride to the parents.

"At Home" Afternoon

The Philaetha Class of the First Methodist church was delightfully entertained by the Misses Mildred Curtis and Fern Smith at the home of the former, 222 South Main street, last Saturday afternoon. This was the first formal "at home" that has been given to the class for some time, and so thoroughly successful were the hostesses in giving the girls an enjoyable afternoon that they are looking forward with pleasant anticipation to the social gatherings which are to be held at the homes of different members of the class on the first Saturday afternoon of each month in the future.

Early in the afternoon the class was called to order by the president, Miss Farla Bemus, for a short business meeting, during which it was decided that the members should become real Philaetha workers; and become one.

Early in the afternoon the class was able classes throughout the world, for actual service.

The home was very cleverly decorated with red hearts and kewpies which was in keeping with the Valentine season; and after the business meeting, a good social time was enjoyed. Various games of the Valentine spirit had been planned. At five o'clock the doors were opened and the guests found their way to the dining room, where the red glow from the paper covered lights shown down upon a table beautifully decorated with flowers, baskets, kewpies and place cards. A dainty two course luncheon was served to the following: Mrs. E. J. Inwood, the class teacher, and the Misses Hattie Anderson, Bessie McCord, Edith Blauer, Gladys Cook, Annis Snow, Mary Bryant, Thelma Price, Farla Bemus, Erma Lee, Eva Hillyard, Lillian Fitz, Cecil Trindle, Althea Hendrickson, Ruth Burns.

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN MISSING

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Friends of Miss Elaine Hammerstein, daughter of Arthur Hammerstein, are mystified by the disappearance of the young woman four days ago. She left a letter for the manager of the "High Jinks" company, with which she was playing, stating that she was going to Ithaca. Since then Miss Hammerstein has not been heard from.

KAISER'S SON ON GUARD

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The work of renovating and putting into order some of the royal castles in the Rhine country together with the report that one of the royal princes is to take up his residence there, has caused a renewal of the report that Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, the Kaiser's eldest son, is to become the "Watch on the Rhine." The crown prince was recently transferred by the Kaiser from command of his Cavalry Death Head Hussars at Danzig, to duty on the general staff in Berlin. Now the report in military circles is that this is but preliminary to the crown prince's promotion to general and being placed in command of one of the big army corps which keep the French on the other side of the Rhine.

DEATH OF MISS TALCOTT IN SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

News has been received here of the death of Miss Grace Talcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Talcott of 615 Spurgeon street, in Salt Lake City, Utah, last Saturday morning of Bright's disease. Miss Talcott with her parents had been in the Mormon capital for about three months, following a breakdown in California while teaching school at Brea. On orders of the family physician she was sent to a higher altitude, but the change was of no avail.

J. M. Talcott has received telegrams that Miss Talcott will be interred in Rosedale cemetery, Los Angeles, funeral services having been arranged for at the Rosedale chapel. The time of the funeral has not yet been decided as the date of leaving Salt Lake is not known. Mr. J. M. Talcott will announce the date as soon as he has definite information. The news of the death of Miss Talcott comes as a great shock to the many friends of the gentle, lovable girl, and deep sympathy is extended to the family and relatives.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON

Preached by Rev. J. A. Stevenson, Pastor of First Presbyterian Church, February 8, 1914, at First Presbyterian Church

"The Call of the Christ"
John 1:43. "Follow Me."
Blessed is the man that can hear. There is so much worth hearing. The song of the mocking bird as he overflows with matchless melody. The waves, chanting a ceaseless anthem, and in the storm, swelling the chorus that speaks of the matchless power of Almighty God. The children laughing, singing, shouting with the fullness of the joy of the carefree life. The man with a message that stirs the brain, warms the heart and touches a spark to the dynamite of the human will. The wireless calls of a needy world sounding the call "S.O.S." i. e. "Save our ship" or "Save our souls."
Blessed is the man that can hear these and many more, but more blessed is the man that can hear the "Call of the Christ" and that responds, "I come, I come."
We hear much in these days about the interference of amateurs in the field of wireless telegraphy. Confusion, consternation, trouble arises

Anty Drudge—"Children, I am glad your Domestic Science teacher asked me to give you a talk today, because I want every one of you to start right when you go out in the world. If you are going to be housekeepers, the first and most important thing you want to know about is how to do the best work in the easiest way. And there's only one way that's easiest and best—that's the Fels-Naptha Way."

Don't ruin your clothes by boiling them until they are tender. Don't waste coal or gas heating water. Use Fels-Naptha Soap. Fels-Naptha will do your work in half the time, with less than half the trouble. It will clean everything it touches in cool or lukewarm water, with no hard rubbing or scrubbing.

To save time, work and money, follow the directions on the Red and Green Wrappers. Better buy Fels-Naptha by the box or carton.

Fels & Co., Philadelphia.

from the mixing of the messages. So it is in life. Other calls break in on the call of the Master. The voices of the world drown, for a time, the voice of Jesus. The call to the soul is not primarily the call of the church. The call of the church is a great call. No man ought to neglect it. The church is but a means to bring a man to the Christ. The call is not first to join the church but to join the Christ. Whenever the church becomes an end she has lost her vision. She is blind to the sight that reveals Jesus as the Alpha and Omega.

The call to the soul is not, primarily, a call to theology. There is a clear-cut distinction between theology and religion. Theology is of the head—religion is in the heart. Theology is a science—religion is a life. A man may be so busy being orthodox that he may forget to worship God. He may be so intent upon the preservation of the doctrines that he may forget his fellow men.

A Christian is not called upon to understand all of the perplexing problems of psychology, philosophy and theology. A man's relationship to God does not depend upon his ability to make subtle philosophical distinctions.

Theology is but the servant of religion. The Christian is not called, primarily, to service. He is called to serve—but he has a call that precedes that. One may do many things, may smile while doing them, but hate them all of the time. One may do a very good thing but do it in a very superficial manner. One may do a very creditable service but because of doing that, fail to do something that would have been infinitely better. A physician may address himself to symptoms and never touch the disease. A man may be so attentive to the call of humanity that he will be deaf to the call of deity. Service is not a substitute for religion but a resultant. A man serves because he is saved not because he wants to be saved.

The call of the Christian is, primarily, to the Christ. The call of the Christ is so clear, so important that no man can afford to neglect it. His call deserves all attention or none. Jesus Christ is worthy of the soul's most careful attention. His claims, His teachings, His influence, His personality are such that no thoughtful soul can afford to be indifferent. His call is a personal call to a definite life. He says, "Follow me," and the soul must respond. There must be an answer. One must follow or one must refuse.

Mr. Glover, in his fine book, "The Conflict of Religions Within the Roman Empire," gives the result of his comprehensive, scholarly work in these words: "Jesus of Nazareth does stand in the center of human history, he has brought God and man into a new relation, and he is the personal concern of every one of us." That is a tremendous and true statement by an able historian.

No intelligent man can afford to be indifferent to the call of such a Jesus. Nineteen hundred years have not sufficed to silence His call. Today it comes clear and insistent from the "land of Galilee asking men to come home."

Hear His call. Come with your sins and I will blot them out. Come with your troubled hearts and I will give you peace. Come with the hunger of your souls and I will love you into a blessed and uplifting fellowship. Come with your weaknesses and I will make you strong. Come with the fetters of sin and I will break your shackles and make you to know the liberty of the children of God. Come with your clouds of doubt, darkness, and despair and I will shine upon them and make them to be radiant with the bow of promise and hope. Come with your strength and I will sanctify it and use it for the glory of your God. Come with your hopes, purposes, aspirations, and I will purify, enable and glorify them. Come with your heart and I will make it to be my habitation and dwelling there, make it to be the throne room of the King of Kings.

Oh, what a gracious invitation. Is it true? Take the testimony of those that have taken him at his word. With one voice, conscious of shortcomings, they will say: "I am dissatisfied with myself but I am satisfied with Jesus every day."

"Jesus calls us, o'er the tumult Of our life's wild restless sea; Day by day his sweet voice soundeth. Saying, 'Christian follow me.'"

Jesus calls us: by thy mercies, Savior, may we hear thy call. Give our hearts to thy obedience. Serve and love thee best of all."
